We are already halfway through 2019! Everyone had a really great time at the Spring Muster in Oklahoma. It was good to see some of you for the first time. Hopefully you are looking and planning for your next project. Things are changing at the office. Brian Smith will replace me in August as the new and improved Project Coordinator.

There are a couple of projects with immediate needs:

- House of Prayer for All Nations in Longview, WA. Lots of interior work.
- Village Missions HQS in Dallas, OR. Bathroom remodel.

We are hoping to start work at Ross Point Camp in Post Falls, ID after the first of August.

The big project at Glen Eyrie in Colorado Springs will begin the first of November.

We will be changing over to a new, much more intuitive and easy-to-use system for login of hours but until we do please continue to use the existing Volgistics system. We will send out updates and information on the new system as soon as we get it in place. Thank you for faithfully reporting your hours!

Here’s a little clarification for those of you who have visited the RV’ers for Christ page on our CWCf.org website lately. The Already a Volunteer? Login here is for RV'ers who are on a project to record their hours worked on that project through the Volgistics program. This must be set up from our home office, so if you don’t already have a Volgistics account with us, please call Sherry Newton.

Remember, You MUST contact the office before going on a project, so that we have all the appropriate forms completed before volunteers start showing up at a project.

We need your picture to go on the wall here in the office and for the website. If you’ve not sent one in to us, please do! (The Post Office won’t let us use the ones they have!)
